CMS Interoperability & Prior Authorization Requirements

Summary: CMS Interoperability Requirements Take Effect January 1, 2027. Providers should begin preparing now by working with their EHR and technology vendors to ensure readiness for electronic prior authorization and healthcare data exchange requirements under CMS-0057-F. Additional guidance and training resources will be provided as they become available.

Action Needed Before January 1, 2027

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) Interoperability and Prior Authorization Final Rule (CMS-0057-F) establishes new requirements designed to improve healthcare data sharing and streamline prior authorization processes.

What You Need to Know

Beginning January 1, 2027, providers will be able to electronically exchange data through industry-standard technology Fast Healthcare Interoperability Resources (FHIR) based APIs that enables secure sharing of patient and prior authorization information between providers and health plans.

These requirements are intended to:

- Improve access to patient health information
- Reduce administrative burden
- Streamline prior authorization processes
- Support better care coordination

Prior Authorization Changes Already in Effect

*As of January 1, 2026, CMS requires health plans to meet, at a minimum, the following prior authorization decision timeframes:

- Expedited requests: Within 72 hours
- Standard requests: Within 7 calendar days

Please note: This change did not affect health plans who already meet these requirements or are required by state regulators to meet stricter timeframes.*
